

Making a Difference for Geospatial Information in Fiji and the Pacific

Meizyanne Hicks

Director Geospatial Information Management

Ministry of Lands & Mineral Resources

Fiji

Outline

- Leading the Way In Geospatial Information
- Highlights of Women in Geospatial
- Achievements of Women in Geospatial
- The Future

Leading the Way In Geospatial Information (GI)

- The Geospatial Information (GI) industry continues to grow
- Women in GI profession is also growing
- Contributions by women to national development through GI have been enormous

Highlights of Women in Geospatial

- Women involved GI range from operational to decision making
- Women are movers and shakers in GI

Achievements of Women in Geospatial in Fiji and the Pacific

- Chair of Fiji Geospatial Information Management Council
- Chief of Geodetic Services, Tonga
- Chair and Vice Chair of the Pacific Geospatial and Surveying Council
- Co-chair for the UNGGIM Annual Session

The Future

- Support for networking
- Capacity building and mentoring